Lockdown Update

11/06/2020

Your Fund, Your Savings, Your Future

STAY HOME – SAVE SOUTH AFRICA

We are into our 2nd week of Level 3 of the lockdown and much of the economy is now re-ignited with many millions of South Africans back at work.

Our thoughts are with those who still may not return to their places of work and cannot provide an income to sustain themselves and their families.

In this notice we look at statistics of the pandemic in our country. It is clear by the number of new cases per day that Covid19 is well entrenched in certain areas of the country and most certainly the worst is yet to come. We encourage you to go Back to Basics again as it is so easy to slide into a feeling of normalcy. This week some significant milestones were reached:-

55,000 cases confirmed

1,000 deaths reported

1 million test results in

New daily cases averaging over 2,000

BACK TO BASICS

Our first back to basics tip was washing of hands.

Wearing of masks is another crucially important precaution against the spread of the virus. We at the NJMPF have been vigilant since the onset of Level 4 that all staff, visitors and service providers are masked at all times. Our president, Cyril Ramaphosa, took an early initiative to enforce the wearing of masks where other countries have chosen to make it a recommendation. We are grateful for the early intervention as the World Health Organisation advises it is a most effective precaution.

MAKE YOUR OWN MASK

The competition closed at the end of May – we have 2 winners and they are announced in our Second Quarter newsletter which will be published on the website soon and will start going out to individuals towards the end of June 2020.
